HSBC Malta Foundation enhances Educational Access in Valletta through VR Technology

The HSBC Malta Foundation has partnered with the Valletta Local Council to support educational innovation in the capital by donating state-of-the-art Virtual Reality (VR) device consoles. These devices will be used to enhance the Homework Club operated by the council and the Optimist Club, offering students an engaging, immersive way to learn.

The donation forms part of the Foundation's ongoing commitment to improving educational outcomes and technological accessibility within local communities. The VR equipment will provide Valletta's young learners with the opportunity to explore a wide range of educational content, making learning more interactive, dynamic, and enjoyable.

Glenn Bugeja, Head of Corporate Sustainability at HSBC Malta said: "The HSBC Malta Foundation is proud to support initiatives that empower students through access to innovative technologies. These VR devices are more than just educational tools – they open the door to creative exploration, helping young our people learn in ways that are both inspiring and effective."

Valletta Mayor Olaf McKay also welcomed the initiative, saying: "We are grateful to the HSBC Malta Foundation for their support. These devices will help transform the educational experience for many of our students, making learning more fun and accessible than ever before."

The VR consoles will be made available to students attending the Homework Club and during special events organised by the Valletta Local Council. This initiative aims to bridge the digital divide while fostering a lifelong love of learning among Valletta's youth.
